

FELLOWSHIPS for the study of CONTEMPORARY ASIA

Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center
Stanford University

POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center Postdoctoral Fellowship

Application available at: <http://stanford.io/1wzpMOD> / Deadline: December 16, 2016

The Shorenstein APARC postdoctoral fellowship supports two scholars undertaking research on contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region, or topics in international relations and international political economy. Fellows are required to be in residence for the 10-month appointment, present their research findings, and participate in the Center's publishing program.

Postdoctoral Fellowship in Developing Asia Health Policy

Application available at: <http://stanford.io/1yAOKs8> / Deadline: January 15, 2017

The Postdoctoral Fellowship in Developing Asia Health Policy is a collaborative program with the Asia-Pacific Observatory on Health Systems and Policy (APO) that supports a scholar undertaking research on contemporary health or healthcare policy of relevance to the Asia-Pacific region. The fellow is required to be in residence for the 9-12-month appointment, present their research findings, and complete two papers for publication by the APO.

Photo credit: Linda Cicero

FELLOWSHIPS FOR EMERGING SCHOLARS AND MID-CAREER PROFESSIONALS

Lee Kong Chian NUS-Stanford Fellowship on Southeast Asia

Application available at: <http://stanford.io/1zbWg3U> / Deadline: March 1, 2017

The Lee Kong Chian NUS-Stanford Fellowship supports a scholar undertaking research on contemporary Southeast Asia. The fellow spends one month at the National University of Singapore (NUS) and 1-3 months at Stanford, conducting research and participating in related workshops on campus. Candidates with backgrounds in the social sciences and humanities are encouraged to apply, and can be of any nationality or seniority.

Koret Fellowship in the Korea Program

More information available at: <http://stanford.io/1BhZBUg>

The Koret Fellowship brings professionals from Asia and the United States to Stanford to study U.S.-Korea relations. The fellow conducts original research on the U.S.-Korea relationship, with an emphasis on contemporary relations. The aim of the fellowship is to foster greater understanding and closer ties between the two nations. A major conference is held each year in conjunction with the fellowship program, the fellow plays a leading role in organizing the event and delivers a keynote speech at the event.

Pantech Fellowship on Korean Affairs for Mid-Career Professionals

More information available at: <http://stanford.io/1zV8yIO>

The Pantech Fellowship brings leading professionals from Asia to Stanford, who currently work in the public or private sector, to assist with Korea-related research projects at Shorenstein APARC. The fellow is expected to be in residence for the 3-9 month fellowship and to produce a working paper or book related to Korea (both North and South). The aim of the fellowship is to enhance the fellow's ability to engage and resolve issues related to the Korean Peninsula.